The personal data is collected from you directly.

- Social Media

BIG uses social media, such as Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, Instagram, Youtube and Vimeo, to reach and communicate with target groups, such as customers, potential employees, partners, decision makers and the general public. The purpose is to strengthen BIG's position as a consultant, employer, and expert.

BIG may process personal data that you have made available through social media including your interactions with BIG on these channels. With your consent, BIG may also credit you for your work associated to BIG's business.

The personal data is collected from you directly, and through social media.

- Visits to our offices

BIG hosts visitors across our offices in Copenhagen, London, Barcelona, and New York. In this regard, BIG may process personal data such as name, email, phone number and other contact details. If your visit is planned, we may send your contact details to reception before your visit. If you arrive without an appointment, you will need to enter your personal data.

Furthermore, BIG may process personal data such as device and IP address, if you choose to use our Wi-Fi.

The personal data is collected from you directly or from the organization you represent.

- Recruitment

BIG's processing of your personal data in connection with our recruitment activities is to assess your qualifications and suitability for a solicited role you have applied for, or if you have submitted an unsolicited application. The personal data may also be used to contact you to progress your application with a view to offering you an employment contract, and may further be used to screen if other open job vacancies might be of interest to you.

When applying for a position within BIG, you will be requested to submit personal data such as your name, email, phone number, resume, CV, cover letter, primary language, experience, education, qualifications and any other relevant information required for BIG to evaluate your application.

If you are called in for an interview, BIG may also process personal data you provide during the interview.

Under certain circumstances, BIG may ask you to provide contact details to referees from former employer to collect information about you.

The personal data is collected from you directly.

How will we use your data?

The processing of your personal data will in some cases be necessary for business related matters and the performance of a contract entered into between BIG and you or the organization you present or for the purpose of potential new business. The processing may also be necessary to comply with requests from you. In addition, the processing of your personal data may be based on our legitimate interest in conducting marketing activities and to develop and evaluate our content, blog posts, and services as well as conducting statistics.

We will only use your personal data for the specific purpose for which you gave consent.

What are your data protection rights?

BIG would like to make sure you are fully aware of all your data protection rights. Every user is entitled to the following:

The right to access – You have the right to request BIG for copies of your personal data. We may charge you a small fee for this service.

The right to rectification – You have the right to request that BIG correct any information you believe is inaccurate. You also have the right to request BIG to complete information you believe is incomplete.

The right to erasure– You have the right to request that BIG erase your personal data, under certain conditions.

The right to restrict processing – You have the right to request that BIG restrict the processing of your personal data, under certain conditions.

The right to object to processing – You have the right to object to BIG’s processing of your personal data, under certain conditions.

The right to data portability – You have the right to request that BIG transfer the data that we have collected to another organization, or directly to you, under certain conditions.

If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you. If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact us at our email: privacy@big.dk

How long the personal data will be stored?

BIG stores personal data as long as it is necessary for the purpose(s) for which the data is collected. Your personal data will be deleted when we no longer need to process the data to fulfill one or more of the purposes mentioned above. However, your data may be processed and stored for a longer period in anonymized form or if we are required to do so by law.

Withdrawal of consent

You may at any time withdraw any consent you may have given. Should you wish to withdraw your consent you may contact us at privacy@big.dk. With respect to newsletters and other electronic marketing material, you may also use the “unsubscribe link” in the email or other communications which you receive from us.
